WILD AUTO KILLS SAN FRANCISCO WOMAN

City Officials Demand Proof of All Charges Made by Reformer Warner

INVITE HIM TO GO BEFORE GRAND JURY

Declare That Accusations Are Founded on Nothing But Flimsy Gossip.

FAILED TO MENTION NAMES IN STATEMENT

Authorities Avert No Infractions of Law Are Allowed to Exist.

It's up to Adam Dixon Warner, of Los Angeles, now to substantiate the general charges he made against the officials of the city of Oakland in connection with the red light district of the city.

District Attorney Donahue today invited Warner or any other person to come before the grand jury on Friday and present any evidence that they might have as to the laws being broken, and he would do all in his power to have that tribunal investigate the charges at once.

Indignant Denials

THE TRIBUNE today interviewed most of the officials of the city as to the statement made by Mr. Warner and in each instance they made indignant denials of any such conditions existing in this city as stated by the Los Angeles reformer.

Warner himself in an interview has backed down considerably in the bold stand he took before the federated churches. He is silent regarding the invitation extended him to carry the matter before the grand jury.

The statements made by city officials follow:

Cleaned Them Out

By DISTRICT ATTORNEY DONAHUE: "Since becoming district attorney, with the aid of the grand jury, we have cleaned out all the immoral places in the neighborhood of the courthouse; we examined a great number of witnesses and I never heard of any city or county official having an interest in any house of ill fame. Warner has not, nor has any other person, ever mentioned to me that such was the fact.

"A grand jury is to be impeached if Mr. Warner or any other person has any such information. I now invite him to give the same to me and I assure the people that no guilty one will be spared, but that I will lay the same before the grand jury at once."

Names Omitted

By CITY ATTORNEY JOHN W. STEINSON: "If Dr. Warner's charges are true, I would be glad to see the men whose names are mentioned in these places published, but if he has nothing to back up his statement, he certainly ought to be compelled to retract. If you look over his statement, you will see that you cannot properly reply to it. He makes charges that any one can make. He mentions no names. If he did he could be punished for libel unless he makes a retraction of the charges he makes. I regard such statements as Warner's as unfounded."

WARNER'S BOLD CHARGES

Here are the charges made by Adam Dixon Warner of Los Angeles before the Federated Churches at a meeting in the First Congregational Church:

"There are twelve houses of ill fame that are being run in the City of Oakland, which are owned by officials of the city. They are the ones that are breaking the law and causing the terrible condition which exists. I can prove my statements, and would urge an investigation."

"I understand that a prominent official of the city has said that there was little or no traffic in women going on in this city. It is not so. I have just come from there, and I find conditions here fully as bad as in many a larger city."

How Warner Takes Water and Backs Up on His Statements

Adam Dixon Warner, a Los Angeles lawyer, who caused an uproar at the meeting of the Church Federation Monday night by saying that "twelve public officials now holding office either owned or controlled" the immoral places which Warner said were running wide open in Oakland, qualified his statement today by saying that he had said "owned and controlled" and more particularly meant "controlled." There is a fine point of distinction in the statement of today. He said:

"All public officials control such places by reason of the fact that it is their duty to see that they are closed. If the places are allowed to run, the public officials are allowing them to run. And, if the places are not allowed to run, the public officials are the ones who close them. Therefore they do control. I did not say that twelve public officials either owned or controlled these places, but rather that I knew that twelve places were in operation and was told by a friend that public officials did own some of these places."

"I had not examined the records at that time but was taking the word of my friend. The public officials do control these by reason of their authority to close them and that is how I come to make the statement. I made subsequent investigations and learned that twenty-five such were in operation. I have not at this time any proof that the property so used is owned by public officials."

Dr. Geo. C. Adams Found Unconscious in Cabin

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—Since his hilltop cottage in Mill Valley was broken open and the Rev. George C. Adams was found unconscious on the floor, the prominent pastor of the First Congregational Church has suffered the illness, which probably ends his career as a public speaker.

Last Thursday the Rev. Adams left his Devisadero street home and went to the Adams cottage in Mill Valley, as has been his custom for many years.

There he was in the habit of getting relief from his long hours of preparation for the pulpit by tramping over the country and cultivating a large garden, always returning to his city home at night.

Evening came and the pastor did not return. His wife, thinking that he might plan to spend the night across the bay, attempted to phone to him, but received no answer. She waited for some word of him; then, overcome with anxiety, phoned to the home of Dr. Rens, opposite to the Adams Mill Valley cottage, asking if they knew whether the clergyman had started home. Repeated knockings at the door brought no answer, so finally, late Thursday night, the house was broken into by Louis Hoffman and the son of Dr. Rens. The Rev. G. C. Adams was found unconscious where he had fallen on the floor.

The emergency treatment administered to the sick man by Dr. Rens saved the clergyman's life. Dr. G. H. Palmer of this city, the family physician, now in constant attendance on the sick minister in Mill Valley, is confident that there would have been no chance of recovery had the men broken into the house an hour later. He diagnoses the case as a slight apoplectic stroke. Until yesterday Adams, who is not paralyzed at all, was unable to speak on account of weakness. He will never be able to appear again in the pulpit where he has been pastor over twenty years, and the family home at 2710 Devisadero street has been closed indefinitely.

High School Frats Get Death Blow From Judge

SAN FRANCISCO, August 31.—Superior Judge Seawell this morning delivered a blow to the hopes and ambitions of the fraternity brothers and sorority sisters of the high school Greek letter societies when he overruled the demurrer interposed by Doris Bradford against the Board of Education.

Doris was suspended from the Girls' High School because she refused to give up her membership in a sorority, and took the matter into the courts as a test case. She asked for an injunction and a writ of mandate compelling the Board of Education to permit her to resume her studies.

They answered quoting the state law against high school Greek letter societies, and she demurred on the ground that the law was unconstitutional, and bringing up several other legal points.

Overruling this demurrer this morning the court upheld the state law and commended it.

Bar Association May Expel Joseph Choate

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Aug. 31.—Charges that Joseph H. Choate of New York, former ambassador from the United States to Great Britain, has been guilty of violation of the constitution of the American Bar Association, in a failure to uphold the honor of the profession of the law, and a petition that he be expelled from the bar association, were presented to the American Bar Association today and referred to the committee on grievances.

R. DALZIEL SR., 73 YEARS OLD, TAKES A BRIDE

Aged Oaklander Falls Victim to Wiles of Sh Cupid.

MISS ISABELLA McLURE, 55, IS THE HAPPY BRIDE

Founder of Firm of Dalziel & Moller Will Be Married Tonight.

At the age of 73 years, after amassing a fortune and raising a family of six sons and one daughter, all of whom are married and in comfortable circumstances, Robert Dalziel Sr., founder of the firm of Dalziel & Moller in both this city and San Francisco, is to be married tonight.

His bride is to be Miss Isabella McLure, who has attained the age of 55 years.

The license for the marriage ceremony was taken out this morning in the office of the County Clerk, both the bride and groom expertly appearing and swearing to the facts which are required to be vouchsafed by men and women contemplating matrimony.

BUOYANCY OF YOUTH.

There was nothing of the diffidence, bashfulness and hesitancy on the part of the lady and gentleman as the answered the questions propounded. On the contrary, the groom-elect bore himself with a buoyancy of a youth who was proud of his conquest, while the bride intended responded to the queries of the practical Cupid of the law with the nonchalance of a practical woman of the world. This was particularly the case when the question regarding the years she had spent in the busy world was propounded.

There was no attempt to conceal facts from present and future writers of genealogy by the custom, now frequently resorted to by people who are advanced in years, by registering "over eighteen years, there was a firm reply to the query as to the years of the bride to the fact that Miss McLure had passed the milestones referred to in the journey of life.

AFTER THE FORMALITY.

After the formality of the issuance of the license, Mr. Dalziel, who was known to a number of the attorneys of the County Clerk's office as also to a number of people who had been married at the time, was congratulated in a hearty manner. There was no one who did not wish that his coming marriage might be as pleasant and as happy as the one

WOCEDED DEATH WHEN FAME FAILED TO COME

VERA FITCH'S BULLET MAY END HER LIFE

Former Oakland Girl Who Shot Herself in New York Not Expected to Live.

VAINLY SOUGHT TO CONCEAL HER IDENTITY

Was Known Here as Quiet and Studious and Attempted Suicide Is Shock.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Little hope is held out today for the recovery of Vera Fitch, daughter of the late Henry Fitch of Oakland, California, who shot herself at the Hotel Astor Monday night. The beautiful young woman, who came from California, to gain fame as a writer, and becoming discouraged, tried to end her life, was positively identified early today by her mother.

Miss Fitch still seeks to conceal her identity saying to her nurses:

"You can question me until next year, but I will not tell who I am. My people are self-respecting folk and I will not bring them into this."

The young woman lived here with her sister, Grace, formerly a San Francisco belle, now the wife of Roy W. Conger, a nephew of the late Edwin H. Conger, former minister to China. Mrs. Conger admitted today that the identification had been made of her sister, who told the authorities that she was "Alice Cole."

SHANNON NOW CLAIMS HE HAS WON

Late Returns Indicate State Printer Will Be Re-elected by Good Plurality.

Indications are that W. W. Shannon has received the nomination for state printer by a large number of votes over his opponent, Friend W. Richardson, according to late returns received at the office of Secretary of State which correct an error made by the tally clerk in San Francisco showing the returns from the Thirty-fourth district to have been 1800 votes shy on corrected to have been 1300 votes shy instead of 317 and turning the tide in his favor. It is believed that this number will give him the nomination.

According to figures given out this morning by Shannon himself, he has received the nomination on the Republican ticket by 1111 votes, a number which he believes has been a lucky one for him throughout his life.

A LUCKY NUMBER.

"Eleven always was my lucky number," he said. "I was married at 11 o'clock, November 11, which is the eleventh month of the year. This ceremony happened just 11 years ago this fall, in 1899. On our honeymoon, my wife and I were assigned to room number 11 in the hotel and when we came to Sacramento we resided at 1100 O street."

That the lead of Shannon was maintained all through the count with an increasing plurality in San Francisco is shown by the complete returns from that city, which have been filed with the Secretary of State, showing that he had received a total of 15,411 votes while his opponent, Richardson, received but 6855 as the nominee of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League.

From the office of the Secretary of State this morning it was learned that there were still 20 precincts to be heard from and it is believed that when the grand total is in W. W. Shannon will have the nomination clinched by a large majority.

It was at first believed that the fight had been a close one in many quarters which have since shown him to hold a large majority and the same result is looked for upon receipt of reports from the 20 precincts. Until the recent showing it was claimed by Richardson that he had received the nomination by a few hundred votes, but with the latest report from San Francisco the tide was turned in favor of Shannon, a majority of 1111 votes, assuring him the nomination on the Republican ticket for the office of State Printer.

TOURING CAR GETS AWAY FROM ITS DRIVER

Miss Agnes Rees of the Same City Is Severely Injured.

VICTIM WAS THE WIDOW OF PROMINENT BROKER

Was Sister of Geo. Luchsinger, President of Humboldt Savings Bank.

MUNICH, Bavaria, August 31.—Mrs. Rose Buckingham of San Francisco was killed, and Miss Agnes Rees of the same city was severely injured by a runaway automobile as they were leaving the Prinz Regenten Theater last night.

The driver had lost control of the car as it approached the main entrance to the playhouse, and swerving suddenly, it plunged into the crowd on the sidewalk.

WIDOW OF BROKER.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 31.—The Mrs. Rose Buckingham mentioned is undoubtedly the widow of the late Aurelius Buckingham, formerly a prominent real estate broker of this city, and the sister of George Luchsinger, president of the Humboldt Savings Bank, who has been traveling abroad for a year in company with her sister, Mrs. E. B. Goodrich, and who leaves three orphan children, Fisher aged 16, Henry aged 11, and George aged 9, to mourn her death.

Mr. Luchsinger had not received any word from Munich this morning, and it was not until his son, A. G. Luchsinger, was informed of the cable by a TRIBUNE reporter that the death of Mrs. Buckingham was made known to the family.

ON TOUR OF EUROPE.

Mrs. Buckingham lost her husband about two years ago, and last November left her three boys in the care of a housekeeper at the family home, 2803 Jackson street, and set out with her sister to tour Europe. She had been enjoying herself and had begun to forget the grief caused by the death of her spouse. She wrote that she did not know when she would return, and the last heard from her was in Munich. This confirms the dispatch and makes the family certain that her identity has been established.

The Miss Agnes Rees cannot be identified here. C. Rees, a wholesale agricultural implement manufacturer, does not know of anyone of that name in this community, and it is believed that Mrs. Buckingham either met her abroad or that she just chanced to be in the crowd outside the theater.

"This is undoubtedly my aunt," said A. G. Luchsinger, this morning, "and I am horrified at the news of her death. She is in Munich, and it is not likely that any mistake has been made. It does not know Miss Agnes Rees, and Mrs. Buckingham was traveling only with her sister, Mrs. Goodrich, who is also a widow."

Mrs. Buckingham was an exceedingly beautiful woman, of a lovable disposition, and with strong traits of character that made friends for her everywhere she went. She was devoted to her children, and they have been looking forward to her return with a great deal of anticipation and longing. About a month ago her brother-in-law, George Buckingham, died, and this second shock, coming so soon upon the family, is a sad blow.

Mrs. Buckingham left here ten months ago with her sister, Mrs. Alvina L. Goodrich, for Europe, intending to devote some time to the cultivation of her voice. Miss Rees, who was with her at the time of the accident, is not known to Mr. Luchsinger, who says his two sisters were traveling alone.

Her husband, Aurelius Buckingham, a real estate broker, was stricken with apoplexy and died in a street in this city three years ago. Her three sons live at the family home on Jackson street.

RAILROAD GRANTED PERMIT TO ERECT SIGNAL TOWER

Resolution Passed February 16 Accedes to Request of Superintendent Whitney; Not Incorporated in Typewritten Minutes

When THE TRIBUNE interviewed City Attorney John W. Stetson on Monday on the subject of the signal tower which the Southern Pacific Company is preparing to erect over the Seventh and Webster street crossing and stated that no permit had been granted by the Board of Public Works, of which he is a member, to the company to build the structure, he was unaware of the fact that at a meeting held February 16, 1910 at which he was not present, a resolution was passed by the voters of the city of Oakland in accordance with the request of W. A. Whitney, superintendent of the Western division of the Southern Pacific Company's system to erect the tower in accordance with plans submitted to the board and on file. One of the peculiar features about this resolution is that it has not been incorporated in the type-written minutes of the board.

Assistant Secretary Hux explains that it was overlooked when the rough minutes of the meeting were transcribed in the minute book. However, the original resolution has been discovered among the rough minutes of the meeting which had not been destroyed. A certified copy of the resolution and the action taken on it shows that the ayes recorded for it were: Commissioners Turner and President Mott. Absent Commissioner Stetson.

The resolution reads as follows: "Resolution 10446—Resolved That the Southern Pacific Company be and it is hereby granted permission to construct signal bridge on the north side of Seventh street across Webster street in the city of Oakland in accordance with communication from W. A. Whitney, superintendent of the Western division of the Southern Pacific Company, dated February 5, 1910, and drawing marked 'WV10443', transmitted with said communication.

Since the publication in THE TRIBUNE on Monday of the proposed erection of the signal tower several neighboring property owners have secured certified copies of the resolution. It was stated that the Southern Pacific Company was the owner of the property on the northwest corner of the intersection of the two streets. It develops, however, that the property is part of the estate of the late A. D. Davis and that the company is lessee only of the signal tower attached to the corner of the second story of the frame building and standing on the western wing extending over the sidewalk.

The Davis heirs are among the protesters to the erection of the overhead signal tower at the crossing.

WITNESSES PUT ON JURY GRILL

Testimony of Three in O'Neil Browne Case Subject of Probe.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—The special grand jury called to investigate the testimony of three witnesses for Leo O'Neil Browne, who is on trial for alleged bribery of legislators in connection with the election of William Lorimer to the United States Senate began hearing witnesses today.

States Attorney Wayman stated that an indictment charging perjury had been voiced against Patrick J. Keeley, formerly a city detective in Wayman's office. Keeley is alleged to have perjured himself in stating that Representative H. J. Beckmeyer was intoxicated when he confessed having received a bribe of $1000 to vote for Lorimer.

Attorney Wayman stated that he would seek perjury indictments also, against George Glass, a motorman, and E. J. Bell, a street car conductor. Glass and Bell testified that Sidney Yarbrough slept at the home on the night of May 24, 1909, instead of being with Representative White, chief witness for the state, at the St. Nicholas Hotel, at Springfield on that night.

Vatican Silent on Protest From Spain

Court Considers Expression As Constituting Improper Influence.

LISBON, Aug. 31.—The court has not yet received a reply from the Vatican to its protest against the criticism of certain members of the government by Monsignor Tonti, the Papal Nuncio.

Later it was stated that officials were following in the footsteps of President Canalejas of Spain and the government considered the expression as constituting improper interference with the policies of the country.

Roosevelt Scored by Socialist Congress

Ex-President Termed "Political Drummer" by Delegate to Copenhagen Gathering.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 31.—Former President Roosevelt came in for a raking in today's session of the International Socialist Congress. Several speakers turned their guns on the American, the most bitter attack being made by George Ledebour, a socialist member of the German Reichstag, who described him as "political drummer."

DRIVE SPECIAL INTERESTS FROM GOVERNMENT, DEMANDS ROOSEVELT

EX-PRESIDENT TAKES STAND FOR 'SQUARE DEAL'

Nation and State Must Be Freed From "Sinister Influences."

ADVOCATES SUPERVISION OVER PUBLIC UTILITIES

Speech at Osawatimie Most Important Made on the Trip.

OSAWATOMIE, Aug. 31.—From the time of his arrival here this morning until he was escorted to the Temple Colonel Roosevelt remained in his car at the station while a large crowd of men and women were outside shouting for him to speak. The Colonel was kept busy talking to members of Governor Stubbs party but to entertain the assemblage several speakers delivered short addresses.

We fellows are taking up the work where it was laid down by John Brown fifty years ago. Said William Allen White in a five minute speech.

Henry J. Allen followed with the declaration that John Brown represented Kansas civilization better than any individual who had ever lived.

THINK THEMSELVES

It is often said remarked Mr. Allen that the people of this state are eligible. That results from the fact that every man and woman in Kansas does his or her own job of thinking. It means that we are always awake and intellectual. Since his return from Africa more than two months ago he has been silent in regard to his views on specific issues which he has expressed in a few cases in which he has spoken of particular local issues.

APPLAUD HIM

Representative Madison delivered a glowing tribute to Colonel Roosevelt. He has made an impression upon the whole world because he stands for the things that men and women and nobles and Mr. Madison. He stands for a better government for a higher nobler and purer civilization. You know how he was received by the whole world and how he told the people abroad how they could run their old governments.

Colonel Roosevelt making an appearance on the rear platform for a few minutes was received with applause and merely said that he was glad to be in the Sunflower State and was especially glad to see the little sunflower children.

GARFIELD CHEERED

James R. Garfield was received with cheers. He at once began his speech on the relation of special interests toward politics.

Special interests of all kinds whether corporate or otherwise are entitled to just consideration and fair treatment but not to representation in any public office. Garfield began. The legislator who owes his nomination or election to the influence of any special interest will inevitably yield to the demands of his master as against the public welfare. The executive officer whose election or appointment is due to influence of special interests will do the same. The judge who owes his position to a special interest may be depended upon to determine in favor of that interest any case in which it is involved.

All such representatives should be driven from public office if we are to maintain self government and work out the problems of our Republic.

TASK DIFFICULT

The task of freeing politics from improper influence of special interests is no easy task. Under the guise of the demand for fair treatment the special interests both state and national have obtained far more than they are entitled to. Through the corrupt influence of money furnished by special interests to particular candidates the special interests have obtained and are maintaining an influence over public officials.

The present great fight for the perpetuation of political liberty is to free ourselves from that kind of interest. It has been said that a general charge of this kind is not borne out by the facts; but every man who has served in any public capacity in state or nation knows that there are public officers whose allegiance is not to the public but to the particular interests that have placed them there.

REPRESENTATIVE OF ALL

It is the railroad in one state the business corporations in another a far larger alliance in another the labor unions in another—all of these as I have said before are entitled to just consideration but none of them to representation. Wherever special interest is represented the public welfare is necessarily jeopardized. The representatives in any office must be representatives of all classes all interests and all people.

Gifford Pinchot made conversation the keynote of his remarks. "Every man gets his living from the earth either directly or indirectly," declared Pinchot. The amount of wealth or the possible prosperity and well being of the whole people depends on how we use this earth and what we do with its products.

TO GET EVERYTHING

The conservation idea is that all of the people ought to get from our natural resources everything they can yield both now and hereafter. But this cannot be brought about if the big fellows get an undue share of the wealth of the earth. In no phase of life is there more opportunity for the operation of the principle of square dealing than in that which involves equality of all men and women in sharing in our prosperity. To

Former Executive Would Control Public Services

The true friend of property, the true conservative, is he who insists that property shall be the servant and not the master of commonwealth.

I stand for the square deal. But when I say that I stand for fair play under the present rule of the game, but that I stand for having those rules changed so as to work for a more substantial equality of opportunity, and of reward for equally good service.

The constitution guarantees protection to property and we must make that promise good. But it does not give the right to suffrage to any corporation.

It is my personal belief that the same kind and degree of control and supervision which should be exercised over public service corporations should be extended also to combinations which control necessities of life, such as meat, oil and coal, or which deal in them on an important scale.

I believe that the officers, and especially the directors of corporations, should be held personally responsible when any corporation breaks the law.

No man should receive a dollar unless that dollar has been fairly earned. Every dollar received should represent a dollar's worth of service rendered. The really big fortune, the swollen fortune, by the mere fact of its size acquires qualities which differentiate it in kind as well as in degree from what is possessed by men of relatively small means.

One of the fundamental necessities in a representative government such as ours is to make certain that the men to whom the people delegate their power shall serve the people by whom they are elected, and not the special interests. I believe that every national officer, elected or appointed, should be forbidden to perform any service or receive any compensation directly or indirectly from interstate corporations; and a similar provision could not fail to be useful within the states.

from the shoulder at the special interests and urged the enactment of some radical legislation looking to their control.

Government supervision he said, should be exercised not only over public utilities corporations, but all corporations doing an interstate business, especially such combinations which control the necessities of life such as meat, oil, coal, etc.

He characterized the amendment to the Hepburn act passed by the last session of congress as "a long step in advance," and expressed the belief that directors of corporations should be held directly responsible when any corporation breaks the law.

CONFIDENCE IN EXPERTS.

In speaking of the tariff the Colonel expressed confidence in an expert tariff commission who would investigate the rates and then recommend changes from time to time.

WHAT HE FAVORS

After saying that in order to insure equal opportunity for all men the present rules of the game must be changed, Colonel Roosevelt put himself on record in favor of the following proposals:

- 1.—Elimination of special interests from public office.
- 2.—Complete and effective publicity of corporate affairs.
- 3.—Passage of laws prohibiting the use of corporate funds directly or indirectly for political purposes.
- 4.—Government supervision of the capitalization not only of public service corporations but of all corporations doing an interstate business.
- 5.—Personal responsibility of officers and directors of corporations which break the law.
- 6.—Increase in the power of the departments of agriculture, of the interior and of the commerce and the Interstate Commerce Commission to control combinations in industry effectively.

REVISION OF TARIFF.

- 7.—Revision of the tariff, one schedule at a time on the basis of information supplied by an expert tariff commission.
- 8.—Graduated income tax and graduated inheritance tax.
- 9.—Readjustment of the country's financial system in such a way as to prevent repetition of periodical financial panics.
- 10.—Maintenance of an efficient army and a navy large enough to insure for the nation the respect of other nations, as a guarantee of peace.
- 11.—Use of national resources for the benefit of all the people.
- 12.—Extension of the work of the departments of agriculture, of the interior and state governments and of the agriculture college and experiment stations, so as to take in all phases of the work of the nation.
- 13.—Regulation of the terms and conditions of labor by means of comprehensive workmen's compensation acts, state and national laws to regulate child and women's work, enforcement of better sanitary conditions for workers and extension of the use of the safety appliances in industry and commerce, both within and between the states.
- 14.—Clear division of authority between the national and the various state governments.
- 15.—Direct supervision associated with corrupt practices act.
- 16.—Prohibition of campaign contributions, not only after election, but before election as well.
- 17.—Prompt removal of unfaithful or incompetent public servants.
- 18.—Provisions against the performance of any service for interstate corporations or the reception of any compensation from such corporations by national officers.

FOR THE SQUARE DEAL.

"I stand for the square deal. But when I say that I stand for fair play under the present rules of the game but that I stand for having those rules changed so as to work for a more substantial equality of opportunity, and of reward for equally good service.

This means that our governments, national and state, must be freed from the sinister influence of control of special interests. Exactly as the special interests of cotton and slavery threatened our political integrity before the Civil War, so now the great special business interests too often control and corrupt the men and methods of government for their own profit. We must drive the special interests out of politics.

TODAY'S TASKS

"That is one of our tasks today. Every special interest is entitled to justice—full, fair, and complete—but not one is entitled to a vote in congress, a voice on the bench, or to representation in any public office. The constitution guarantees protection to property, and we must make that promise good. But it does not give the right of suffrage to any corporation.

The true friend of property the true conservative is he who insists that property shall be the servant and not the master of the commonwealth, who insists that the creature of man's making shall be the servant and not the master of the man who made it. The citizens of the United States must effectively control the mighty commercial forces which they have themselves called into being.

KILL ACTIVITY

There can be no effective control of corporations while their political activity remains. To put an end to it will be neither a short nor an easy task, but it can be done.

We must have complete and effective publicity of corporate affairs so that the people may know beyond peradventure whether the corporations obey the law and whether their management entitles them to the confidence of the public.

ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH.

OSAWATOMIE, Kan., Aug. 31.—In one of the most important speeches since he left New York on his western trip, Colonel Roosevelt today struck out straight for political purposes, it is still more necessary that such laws should be thoroughly enforced. Corporate expenditures for political purposes, and especially such expenditures by public service corporations, have supplied one of the principal sources of corruption in our political affairs.

"It has become entirely clear that we must have government supervision of the capitalization not only of public service corporations, including particularly railroads, but of all corporations doing an interstate business. I do not wish to see the nation forced into ownership of the railroads if it can possibly be avoided, and the only alternative is thorough-going and effective regulation, which shall be based on a full knowledge of all the facts, including a physical valuation of the property. This physical valuation is not needed, or at least is very rarely needed for fixing rates, but it is needed as the basis of honest capitalization.

LIMITED FRANCHISES.

"We have come to recognize that franchises should never be granted except for a limited time, and never without proper provision for compensation to the public. It is my personal belief that the same kind and degree of control and supervision which should be exercised over public service corporations should be extended also to combinations which control necessities of life, such as meat, oil and coal, or which deal in them on an important scale.

"I believe that the officers, and especially the directors, of corporations, should be held personally responsible when any corporation breaks the law.

"Combinations in industry are the result of an imperative economic law which cannot be repealed by political legislation. The effort at prohibiting all combination has substantially failed.

CONTROL COMBINATIONS.

"The way out lies not in attempting to prevent such combinations, but in completely controlling them in the interest of the public welfare. For that purpose the federal bureau of corporations is an agency of the first importance. Its power and therefore its efficiency, as well as that of the Interstate Commerce Commission should be largely increased.

We have a right to expect from the bureau of corporations and from the interstate railways and the proper management of interstate business as we are now sure of the conduct and management of the national banks, and we should have as effective supervision in one case as in the other. The Hepburn act, and the amendment to that act in the shape in which it finally passed congress at the last session represent a long step in advance, and we must go yet further.

WEALTHY CLASS.

"The absence of effective state, and especially national, restraint upon unfair money-getting has tended to create a small class of enormously wealthy and economically powerful men whose chief object is to hold and increase their power. The prime need is to change the conditions which enable these men to accumulate power which it is not for the general welfare that they should hold or exercise. We grudge no man a fortune which represents his own power and sagacity, when exercised with entire regard to the welfare of his fellows. But the fortune must be honorably obtained and well used. It is not even enough that it should have been gained without doing damage to the community. We should permit it to be gained only so long as the gaining represents benefit to the community. This I know implies a policy of a far more active government interference with social and economic conditions in this country than the state.

for political purposes, it is still more necessary that such laws should be thoroughly enforced. Corporate expenditures for political purposes, and especially such expenditures by public service corporations, have supplied one of the principal sources of corruption in our political affairs.

"It has become entirely clear that we must have government supervision of the capitalization not only of public service corporations, including particularly railroads, but of all corporations doing an interstate business. I do not wish to see the nation forced into ownership of the railroads if it can possibly be avoided, and the only alternative is thorough-going and effective regulation, which shall be based on a full knowledge of all the facts, including a physical valuation of the property. This physical valuation is not needed, or at least is very rarely needed for fixing rates, but it is needed as the basis of honest capitalization.

"The people of the United States suffer from periodical financial panics to a degree substantially unknown among the other nations which approach us in financial strength. There is no reason we should suffer what they escape. It is of profound importance that our financial system should be promptly investigated, and so thoroughly and effectively revised as to make it certain that hereafter our currency will no longer fall at critical times to meet our needs.

ALL FAIRLY EARNED

"No man should receive a dollar unless that dollar has been fairly earned. Every dollar received should represent a dollar's worth of service rendered. The really big fortune, the swollen fortune, by the mere fact of its size, acquires qualities which differentiate it in kind as well as in degree from what is possessed by men of relatively small means. Therefore I believe in a graduated income tax on big fortunes, and in another tax which is far more easily collected and far more effective—a graduated inheritance tax on big fortunes, properly safeguarded against evasion and increasing rapidly in amount with the size of the estate.

"The people of the United States suffer from periodical financial panics to a degree substantially unknown among the other nations which approach us in financial strength. There is no reason we should suffer what they escape. It is of profound importance that our financial system should be promptly investigated, and so thoroughly and effectively revised as to make it certain that hereafter our currency will no longer fall at critical times to meet our needs.

PROTECT PROPERTY.

"I believe in shaping the ends of government to protect property as well as human welfare. Normally, and in the long run the ends are the same, but whenever the alternative must be faced I am for men and not for property. I am far from underestimating the importance of dividends, but I rank dividends below human character. I know that the reformers must bring upon the people economic ruin, or the reformers themselves will go down in the ruin. But we must be ready to face temporary disaster whether or not brought on by those who will war against us to the knife. Those who oppose all reform will do well to remember that ruin in its worst form is inevitable if our national life brings us nothing better than swollen fortunes for the few and the triumph in both politics and business of a sordid and selfish materialism.

MORE DIRECT ACTION.

"More direct action by the people in their own affairs under proper safeguards is vitally necessary. The direct primary is a step in this direction if it is associated with a corrupt practice act effective to prevent the advantage of the man who is willing to spend money over his more honest competitors. It is particularly important that all money received or expended for campaign purposes should be publicly accounted for, not only after election but before election as well. Political action must be made simpler, easier and freer from confusion for every citizen. I believe that the prompt removal of unfaithful or incompetent public servants should be made easy and sure in whatever way experience shall show to be most expedient in any given class of case.

"One of the fundamental necessities in a representative government such as ours is to make certain that the men to whom the people delegate their power shall serve the people by whom they are elected, and not the special interests. I believe that every national officer, elected or appointed, should be forbidden to perform any service or receive any compensation directly or indirectly from interstate corporations and a similar provision could not fail to be useful within the state.

WANTS NAME ON OFFICIAL BALLOT

G. D. Gray Declares Alameda Township Is Entitled to Two Constables.

Attorney James of Alameda yesterday manufactured the Board of Supervisors in the Superior Court to compel them to place the name of George D. Gray on the official ballot for the November election as a candidate for the office of constable of Alameda township.

It is contended that according to the federal census of 1906 Alameda township is entitled to two constables, but that in violation of the constitutionality of this basis the last legislature passed a special act which reduced the number to one constable.

Gray held that the legislative act was only passed for executive functions but has been illegally construed as indicating the number of constables a township is entitled to. Gray received the second highest number of votes at the primaries, so he asks the court to recognize him as one of the rightful candidates for constable after declaring the last federal census as the basis upon which Alameda township is entitled to two constables.

THIEF GETS BUSY IN OAKLAND HOTEL

Roomers' Report Articles Are Missing; Other Places Are Burglarized.

Detectives are investigating a number of thefts from rooms in the Overland house, reported by guests at the hotel whose clothes have been stolen. It is apparent that the sneak thief has a pass key permitting him to gain entrance to the various rooms.

Mathias Zimmer of room 60 reports the theft from his room of a vest, a suit of clothes, a pair of trousers, a yellow leather suit case, razor, overcoat, gold scarf pin, handkerchiefs and other articles, the total value being $30.

Joseph Dutia of room 63, in the Overland house, is lamenting the loss of a suit of green clothes, two pairs of shoes, a pair of gloves, a pair of socks, a cloth, and a white suit case. He complained that the clothes and suit case were stolen from his room by sneak thieves who used a key to pass key to gain entrance. The total value of the articles stolen is $17.

Dr. A. S. Kelly, with offices in the First National bank, has reported to the police the theft of a watch, a gold lap robe from his automobile, and a khaki overcoat. The total value is $10.

Taking advantage of a broken window burglars gained entrance to the residence of R. W. Sawyer at 131 Seventh street and stole 20 five-cent cigars.

PROTEST INCREASE IN FREIGHT RATES

Lumber Dealers Meet to Formulate Claims Against Railroads.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Representatives of lumber dealers associations of Michigan, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri and Illinois met here yesterday to formulate a protest to be submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission against an increase in the lumber rates on the railroads.

In the past the trunk lines in the Southwest have paid a portion of their freight rates to the originating lines, but recently filed notice of cancellation to become effective September 24. The lumber dealers believe that the cancellation should not be sanctioned unless the trunk lines reduce their freight rates as pocketing the difference hitherto made with the originating lines will be equivalent to an increase in the average rates.

The lumber dealers say that the present rates on lumber are higher than on other commodities, and that an increase would be an unjust burden on the consuming public.

Russia Bitter Over Korean Annexation

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 31.—The text of the treaty by which the Korean kingdom was annexed to the empire of Japan was published here yesterday and in the case of the Novoe Vremya was accompanied by a bitterly sarcastic editorial. The document, the paper says, constitutes "a historical example of shameful hypocrisy." The Novoe Vremya adds that Russia's interests in the Korean kingdom are insignificant, and that Russian diplomacy will not raise its voice in protest.

Glass eyes are now made with such perfection that even the wearers are unable to see through the deception.

HELD FOR ARSON ON HEAVY BONDS

Brooks and Freedberg Are Bound to Appear in Higher Court.

LAZOR Brooks and Hyman Freedberg, proprietors of a grocery store at 834 West street, in which an attempt at arson was made August 11, were held to answer on an arson charge before Judge Mortimer Smith yesterday afternoon.

The evidence introduced showed that fire had been started in a different place in the building, that the plaster had been stripped from the lathing and the woodwork saturated with kerosene, and that the pass had been locked up by Brooks and Freedberg a short time before the mysterious fire was discovered.

The evidence also showed that the furniture and stock had been heavily insured by the proprietors of the store. The two defendants were represented by Attorneys Heim Goldin and Clinton Dodge. The hearing required a two day session of the court. Following the preliminary examination Judge Smith handed down the decision, binding the men over to the Superior Court, bail being fixed at $4000 in each case.

Brooks and Freedberg were arrested as the prelude to six arrests in Oakland on arson charges, there now on the court calendars being William Schoenfeld, Israel Liever, Arthur Nagle and Ng Gen.

HEROINE OF 'BOY' OSBURN KISSING EPISODE WANTS DIVORCE ANNULLED

MRS. MAUDE EVANS, who is suing her former naval officer husband for maintenance.

Mrs. Maud Evans Plans Suit to Secure Alimony From Naval Con- structor, Who Divorced Her

Mrs. Maud Evans, divorced wife of Naval Constructor Holden A. Evans, is about to bring legal proceedings against her former husband to secure alimony. The divorce which he obtained in January of this year was not legal in that he was not a resident of California at the time. Her object in doing this is to obtain alimony so that she can leave the stage and take her three young daughters to live in the country with her.

Maud Evans is now filling an engagement at a big Market street cafe, and she states without any equivocation that she is sick of stage life and wants to leave it. She says that she sees a chance to make her former husband pay her enough to enable her to live without having to work, and also to force him to relinquish the care of their three daughters.

NO LOVE FOR EVANS.

"There is not the least bit of love left in my heart for this Evans," she said. "I would not go back to him though he had not married another woman and were to ask me to be his second wife. I do want to be able to have my three girls with me, and with me under better conditions than these. Girls with a mother on the stage have no chance in life. I do not want to stay on the stage, in fact I returned to the footlights only because Evans refused to help me and I had to make my bread and butter."

"My ambition is to marry some good man, to take my girls with me and go to live somewhere out in the country where the air is pure and life is clean; where the sun comes up in the morning over smiling hillsides and does not have to struggle to send its rays through the murky from a thousand chimneys."

"I want to get away from scandal and grease paint, from men of the world and poison-tongued women, and that is why I am making this fight to prove that Evans' divorce proceedings were illegal."

KISS UNDER MISTLETOE.

Mrs. Evans says that she had been advised in this matter by a lawyer friend, whose name may not appear, because he is married to a jealous wife. She believes, she says, that she has a clear case against her former husband, and will fight the matter to the last ditch in the interests of her own and her daughters' future.

Referring to her past life, Mrs. Evans said: "I was playing in musical comedy in England. I was only 17 years old, and had a good part in the 'Shop Girl', and was while playing in this piece in Glasgow that I first met Evans. He was then detailed to the University of Glasgow to study naval construction. My people did not want me to marry him, but I had made up my mind, and I ran away and he brought me over to this country and for a time we were quite happy. Then things began to look gloomy. I was always wrapped up in his work and I had so little consideration from him. After the birth of Dolly, that is our eldest girl, the one who christened the Prometheus, everything was lovely for a time, but they soon sagged back into the old routine of indifference on his part and yearning on mine."

"I was left so much alone that when Lieutenant Osburn came along and wanted to be friendly I was only too eager to meet his advances. There was nothing of love between him and the kiss he gave me on Christmas day of 1908 was given just such kiss as are given under the mistletoe in England, and nobody thinks anything of it. Why, we were standing right out in the middle of the hall with any amount of people looking on. It was the most innocent and friendly kiss in the world."

WOULD NOT ACCEPT OSBURN.

Then Mrs. Evans told of being cast off by her husband and of being so indifferent to care to contest the divorce. She says that Lieutenant Franklin Wayne Osburn offered to make the "damned honorable," but that she did not love him and so would not accept it.

Finally, she says, she awoke to her position and went to Evans to tell him that she was penniless and, asking her pride, asked him to help her until such time as she could make a living.

"He refused me roughly," she said, "and so I went back to the stage."

DISCUSS LOCATION OF POST OFFICE

Fruitvale Board of Trade Take Up Request of Business Men.

FRUITVALE, August 31.—At a meeting of the Fruitvale Board of Trade Thursday night the location of the proposed new postoffice, which will be erected here shortly, will be discussed. The contract for the building has been let by the Federal authorities and all negotiations in regard to it closed, but a minority of the residents and business men are in favor of a different location from that which has been decided upon. It is proposed to place the new building somewhere between Fruitvale avenue and the Fruitvale library on East Fourteenth street. This was the location favored by the majority of the people here, but a faction has arisen which is in favor of placing the office farther east, in order to make it more central to both Fruitvale and Melrose.

KNOWLAND TO ATTEND.

Congressman Joseph R. Knowland has been requested to attend the meeting and assist the residents in settling their troubles over the location. It is hardly thought that the location can be changed now after the details have already been turned over by the contractors by the U. S. Department, but it is thought that Congressmen Knowland may be able to throw some light upon the situation.

The mission of the Western Pacific to Fruitvale will aid in settling the matter of the Board of Trade at the meeting this week by Traveling Contract Agent J. J. Hughes, who will report the plans of developments which the railroad has in view for Fruitvale.

Mr. and Mrs. Laumeller are here on a visit to the former's aunt, Mrs. May Owens.

Hoodwinking Clergymen

When a small clique of men put up a scheme to harness the clergy of America, and induce the ministers to turn their backs on the members of the churches, we should all take notice.

They couldn't harness the preachers in a bad cause except by deceiving them.

Ministers of the gospel are essentially and fundamentally honest but, like all men who work for the public good, they are at times misled by false statements.

Trust them when they have exact truth to speak from.

Now for the story which should be read by every minister, every receiver of wages or fee upon any wage earners and the freedom of the individual is at issue.

On various papers the following statement has been printed. Read it carefully at least twice.

"INTEREST IN LABOR SUNDAY"

"Labor Sunday—the Sunday preceding Labor day—will be observed generally this year and in future years throughout the United States. This because of the American Federation of Labor declaration for the observance of that day. The numerous letters recently received at American Federation of Labor headquarters from ministers is an assurance that interest in the idea of giving special attention to the cause of labor from the pulpit one day in the twelve months is widespread. Our readers are urged to try to bring about an understanding in their respective districts with representatives of the church so that ministers will make addresses that may attract trade unionists to the churches in large numbers for the day. Ministers should say what they think on the occasion. In order that their trade union hearers may put the right estimate as to where the church stands on the question of the organization of labor. The more the subject is discussed the better will it be for labor. Union ethics are sound—American Federationists."

Observe that "Labor Union" men are urged to induce ministers to make addresses that may attract trade unionists to the churches "on Labor day." "Ministers should say," etc., and winds up with "Union ethics are sound," observe the hidden threat.

This is clipped from the American Federationist the organ of Sam Gompers, et al.

This clipping has been sent to papers throughout the country and the typographical union men in the newspaper office were instructed to "urge" that it be printed.

That is one of the ways of the "machine." It looks harmless so the papers print it.

But! Let's lift the cover and look under.

The hidden motive is as dangerous to the peace and liberty of the citizen as a cold rattlesnake in his glass.

Organization by workmen to peacefully and successfully present their grievances is necessary and most commendable.

There are such organizations now rapidly winning their way to public recognition without strikes, dynamite or killing fellow workmen.

But! Let's lift the cover and look further along in this article.

We see here a demand on the ministers of God, that they endorse and help build up the strikes, boycotting and violent American Federation of Labor.

To a score of our fellow men are assaulted or murdered by members of this band.

Then remember the homes blown up or burned, the rioting, the wrecking of trains and attempted or successful killing of passengers.

And the thousands of dollars forced from tax payers to pay extra police, sheriffs and militia to protect, even in a feeble way, the citizens from the mob of members of the American Federation of Labor.

Then you will realize why the great peace-loving majority of over 80 million Americans protest against the growth of this crime-tainted organization comprising thousands of men and one half million men, of which it is estimated at least seven-tenths are peace-loving citizens and are sympathetic with the threatened rights of the individual.

We find that a few designing men have seized control of the American Federation of Labor, just as a few shrewd capitalists have secured control of some railroads and other interests and are now twisting and turning the American Federation of Labor into a machine for personal profit and fame.

These men cunningly plan to force workmen to join and pay 25 to 75 cents a month in fees.

Various ways are used to "induce" workmen to join.

First, they talk of the "tyranny of capital" making slaves of workmen.

Then they work up enthusiasm about the "brotherhood of man" and other talk which experience has shown excites the emotions of workmen and they are induced to "join" and pay fees to the leaders.

The 5000 workmen in Battle Creek are a rule from the doctrine of the great Labor Trust and still get the highest wages in Michigan.

If they had yielded to the smooth talk of the agents of the trust and joined, they would pay in fees from $125.00 to $2000.00 a month to the trust and be subject to strike orders any time.

Now they save that and put the money into homes and family comforts.

But the managers of the American Federation of Labor have worked hard and long to harness them.

The trust has sent small hales of money and sent winter to organizers to tie up Battle Creek. They hired halls, gave picture shows, smokers, etc., as an investment, looking to rich returns when they succeeded in having them tied hand and foot.

But they failed and the last of these "organizers" left Battle Creek on May 1st saying "it's no use."

Then think of the lordly power, and don't forget the flow of money squeezed from the workman's hard earned pay envelope.

But when these leaders "tie up" any industry no man can hold a job who refuses to pay fines even on trumped up charges, and steadily pay fees whatever they are.

The workman is absolutely at the mercy of this band of men who have secured and hold control.

Many and many an honest workman has raised his voice and appealed to his fellows to rise and shake off the yoke of Gompers, et al. But as one writes, "At every convention of the American Federation of Labor, strong opposition comes up but at the critical moment the impassioned orator appears and most dramatically puts the spot light on the leader and covers him with a 'mawkish film of martyrdom' and the emotional delegates yell in delight, forgetting the instructions of the peaceful workmen at home who desire to free themselves from the yoke of membership under the great advocates of strike, boycott, violence and hate."

With such the unequalled insolence with which these traitors propose to "induce" ministers to pull their chestnuts from the fire by preaching modern aggressive and violent trade union methods.

There is a better way to secure justice for workers, as will appear further along.

Just a little diversion here.

One charged with having first brought to the attention of the public some years ago, the name "Labor Trust."

A trust is a combination of men for the purpose of selling their product at a profit and restricting production to effect it.

We will say a large Oil Company gathers in smaller ones and thus controls production.

The Labor Trust "gathers in" local trade organizations and thus has power to say how much work each man shall do.

The Labor Trust then fixes prices. The Oil Company then fixes prices. The Labor Trust does not use methods to force an unwilling dealer to join.

But the Labor Trust men go further and slug the independent man if he tries to sell his labor without paying fees and "obeying orders." They are both exactly alike in purpose, which is to make the independent man powerless and moneyless.

Certain Labor Trust members do not hesitate to use violence, dynamiting of property, burning homes of independent men and even murder to force their will on the Labor Trust.

The Oil Company doesn't go so far. Both are extremely dangerous to the welfare of people and communities, for power placed in the hands of a few men is a danger to the people.

Labor Trust members on other hand believe who cannot agree with the trust method.

Now for the better way.

Workingmen are now organizing in the old fashioned trades union or "guild" way, affiliated with the National Trades and Workers Association whose constitution provides arbitration of differences with agreement for no strikes, boycott, picketing or hateful coercion of any kind.

This Trade Association has evolved from the experience of the past and is the highest order of Trades Unionism at the present day.

Under its laws it is not possible for the Hod Carriers Union or the Street Cleaners Union or the school teachers or locomotive engineers to quit work in a "sympathetic strike."

If any craft finds injustice, the case is presented to properly selected arbitrators, testimony taken and the case presented to the public through the press. The reputation of public opinion, that greatest of all powers, makes itself felt and curiously enough the fair settlement is generally its result.

There is no strike, no loss of wages, no harm to the community and yet the faithful workers get their just treatment.

There are many details which have been worked out by men skilled in labor matters.

So with recompense any interested man to know these details which can be secured by a postal request for constitution and by-law written to the National Trades and Workers Association, Kingston Block, Battle Creek, Mich.

Reader, look carefully into this great question of the relations of Capital and Labor and its successful solution. The new plan works and brings results for the members.

I became so favorably impressed with the trustworthiness and practicability of the leader of the labor movement that I gave the Association a sanatorium at Battle Creek 300 rooms to be used as a home for their old members and the helpless, sometimes made it a less by the pistol, club or boot heel of some member of the violent "Labor Trust."

Suppose you attend church Labor has to say in defense of the equality and rights of the common, everyday man.

Let me ask you to read again a portion of ask me to read again a portion of my public articles.

"The people of the world have given me money enough to spend in order to make better and safer conditions for the common people, whether the Postum business runs or not."

Scores of letters have come to me from work-people and others, some from union men and some from non-union men, all of whom are suffering from union domination and urging that their cases be laid before the public.

Will not answer for us to only sympathize with the poor the oppressed, those who have not power enough to drive off tyrant and resent oppression, we must help them in the struggle with the oppressors. Americans must act.

Some of my forebears in New England left comfortable homes, took with them the old flint locks, slept on the ground in rain and frost, hungry, footsore, and half clothed, they grudgingly pushed on where the Eternal God of Human Liberty urged them.

They wove for me and for you a mantle of freedom, woven in a loom where the shuttles were cannon balls and the bobbins were swords, they used to pick out the tangles in the yarn.

These old, sturdy grand old men stood by that loom until the mantle was finished, then, stained with their life blood, it was handed down to us. Shall I refuse to bear it or my shoulders and half clothed they grudgingly pushed on where the Eternal God of Human Liberty urged them.

I have faith that the blood of 1776 still coursing in your veins will tingle and call until you wake up. Then Americans will act. There's a Reason."

C. V. POST.

Mayor McCarthy and Spring Valley.

Nothing is gained by saying Mayor McCarthy opposed the purchase of Spring Valley when the company offered to sell its plant to the city of San Francisco. Nor is a bad matter mended by saying the mayor's opposition defeated the purchase. That much may be conceded. Mayor McCarthy now realizes the mistake he made in opposing the acquisition by the city of the Spring Valley plant. His present attitude is a confession of error in the past. It is profitless, therefore, to turn discussion from the suggested purchase of the Spring Valley works back to the causes which operated to defeat the purchase last January. What is the best thing to do now? If it would have been wise for the city to buy the plant six months ago it is wise to buy it now. The city needs the plant. The wisdom of its acquisition is not affected by the Lake Eleanor project. Whether the Lake Eleanor supply is ever developed and brought into San Francisco or not the city should acquire the Spring Valley plant. The quicker the city acquires it the quicker San Francisco's water problem will be solved on an enduring basis. The question, therefore, for the people of San Francisco to consider is not whether Mayor McCarthy was wrong last January, but whether he is right now. He may be wrong about Lake Eleanor and still be right as regards the purchase of Spring Valley. The price should be determined by the properties included in the transfer. It is conceded that the city should not buy all the land holdings of the water company, but it should take over all properties that can be made available as sources of supply.

As to Oakland's Water Front.

The statement that the city of Oakland is buying water front lands while it is granting to railway corporations the use of large blocks of the same sort of property for long terms of years at a nominal rental can only be ascribed to mendacity or ignorance. Malice as well as mendacity is visible in what the San Francisco Bulletin says on the subject. The city does not own the lands fronting on the harbor. What it does own is the strip lying between the low tide line and the bulkhead line. With the ownership of this strip goes all wharfage rights and privileges. The city has granted to the Western Pacific and Key Route each wharfage rights on a thousand feet frontage, and the Council now has under consideration a similar grant to the Southern Pacific. But the city owns miles of unimproved territory on the water front in addition. The space occupied by the railroads is a mere bagatelle to the space at present wholly unoccupied and unused. The city has projected municipal wharf and dock improvements on three sections of the water front—namely, the upper basin, the lower harbor channel and the bay front, and it is buying the land approaches in the rear of these projected improvements. No railroad or other corporation has been granted a lease, long or short, of any lands belonging to the city. In return for the wharfage franchise it is to receive the Southern Pacific surrenders some very valuable concessions having years to run and abandons all claim to ownership of the strip lying between the low tide line and the bulkhead line. The city can grant similar terminal accommodations to half a dozen more railroads and still have left abundant water front territory available for wharf and dock purposes. The representation that the water front of Oakland is being monopolized by railroads is grossly false and ridiculously absurd. Not one-third of the water frontage is being utilized.

Colonel Roosevelt's Mistake.

Colonel Roosevelt's complaint that the decisions of the United States Supreme Court are ruining the republic is an old one. It was asserted by Thomas Jefferson, Patrick Henry and Alexander Macay when John Marshall was Chief Justice. When the Dartmouth College decision was rendered a great howl went up that the rights of a free people were being destroyed by judicial usurpation, but the Dartmouth College decision is regarded today as embodying the firmest and most enduring principle of stable government because it guarantees freedom of action on one hand and security to all contractual relations on the other. The decision in the New York bakeshop case, for which Colonel Roosevelt denounced the Federal Supreme Court, was based on the rule laid down in the Dartmouth College case by Chief Justice Marshall. The objection Colonel Roosevelt makes to the ruling in the New York bakeshop case is the same in principle as the objection made to the ruling in the Dartmouth College case—that it denies the right of a State to regulate its own affairs. But, as a matter of fact, the Supreme Court did not in either case deny the right of the States to regulate their own affairs. The essence of both decisions was that the States had no power to alter or destroy the obligations of a contract. The police power of the State to enforce hygienic conditions in bakeries is left unimpaired by the decision at which Colonel Roosevelt rails. The effect of the decision is that the State, in the exercise of its police power, must not destroy the obligations of contract—in other words, must not exceed its jurisdiction and by indirection abrogate a rule of law that has been held to be fundamental for nearly a century. Colonel Roosevelt is not a lawyer, and looks at the decision from the standpoint of a layman anxious to see a very desirable reform carried out. He is disappointed that the attempt to enforce hygienic and sanitary conditions in the bakeries has been frustrated by a judicial decision, and has denounced that decision without examining the principles on which it is based. Had he looked closer he would have discerned that the court simply declared against doing the right thing in the wrong way. It was the method alone that was estopped.

Trying to Degrade the Judiciary.

A plank in the Kansas Republican platform, which is an expression of insurgency and Populism, demands that United States circuit and district judges be appointed for six-year terms. They are now appointed for life. It is a wonder a demand was not made that positions in the Federal judiciary be made elective. In ability, rectitude, learning and courage the Federal judiciary in this country ranks the bench of all other nations. Federal judges hold a higher place in the respect and confidence of the American masses than State judges do. Long experience has confirmed the belief that judicial process in the Federal courts is surer, swifter and more righteous than it is in the State courts. There are exceptions, of course, to the general rule of high character, scrupulous honor and distinguished ability on the Federal bench, but these exceptions merely prove the rule. A comparison of Federal judges with the elective State judges would be both odorous and odious. Imagine the effect on this splendid judiciary that would be produced by reducing its members to the United States bench to six years and subjecting incumbents to the mutations of politics and the whims of a popular passion. The Federal bench would inevitably be lowered in character and ability and an inferior type of men would be seated in its service.

HEALTH AS A PUBLIC ASSET

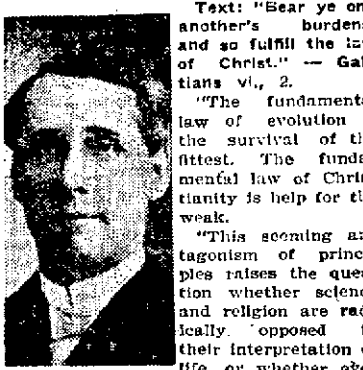

The Pennsylvania State Board of Health reports that the expenditure of $2,000,000 in four years in the interest of the public health has resulted in saving $23,000,000 to the commonwealth. This is conservation of a most desirable quality. It goes toward maintaining those greatest resources of a state which lie in a people rich in physical and mental well-being. The Pennsylvania board has fought diphtheria effectively with antitoxin. It has reduced the death rate from consumption, "the white plague," from 124 to 120 per thousand, and is about to do better by adding two new tuberculosis colonies to the one now in operation. It has cut the typhoid rate in half by shutting off fever-breeding nuisances in streams, open drains and unsanitary premises. When Dr. Wiley was reminded in Washington Saturday of commercial interests involved under the rigor of his pure-food rulings, "I don't give a hoot," said he, "for the business world. What I care for is the health of the people." As the Pennsylvania board shows us in figures, public good health is a public asset.—New York Tribune.

WOMAN AND THE PIN

It was in a deductive way that the captain found out that Ethel Clare Le Neve, the supposed accomplice of Dr. Crippen, was a girl, though she was dressed in boy's togs. She had supplied a missing trouser's button with a safety pin. The method was entirely feminine. A boy would have borrowed a marble spike or a nail, or whittled a wooden peg. This dramatic use of the safety pin again focuses attention on woman's marvelous capacity as a pinster. Give her a hat pin and she can frighten a footpaw or lure others from a long-necked bottle, with equal ease. She makes it decorum to

Survival of the Unfit

By REV. GEORGE W. WHITE,
Pastor First M. E. Church

Rev. Geo. W. White

Text: "Bless ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ."—Galatians vi, 2.

"The fundamental law of evolution is the survival of the fittest. The fundamental law of Christianity is help for the weak.

"This seeming antagonism of principles raises the question whether science and religion are radically opposed in their interpretation of life, or whether evolutionary science has struck the wrong key to natural law.

"Philosophers agree that the place where evolution breaks down most signally is in the field of ethics. The domination and destruction of the weak by the strong does not look so well in the ethical realm as in the physical.

"Civilization measures itself largely by its improved humanities, and these are all at variance with the idea of the elimination of the weak in favor of the strong.

"Education, medicine, surgery, philanthropy, are all based on the principle of aid for the weak and suffering.

EXALT SPIRITUAL TYPE ABOVE PHYSICAL.

"Love, devotion, duty, pity, sympathy and self-sacrifice are the marks of the highest quality of human character, and these are all included in the principle of 'Otherness,' for which Drummond contends. Also, these are all essentially Christian characteristics.

"We are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak," is the word the Apostle Paul sums up the spirit of Christianity.

"Neither is it clear that Christianity is in opposition to the highest law of nature when nature is rightly interpreted.

"Kessell, a Russian naturalist, concluded 20 years ago that the law of mutual aid is more prominent in nature than the law of struggle for supremacy.

"Darwin, in his 'Descent of Man,' notices the same phenomena. He says: 'Those communities of animals which included the greatest number of sympathetic members would flourish best and rear the greatest number of offspring.'

"This sounds like the plan of co-operation, instead of extermination, in nature. It hints at the same truth which the Scriptures plainly state, that, 'No man liveth unto himself and no man dieth unto himself.'

"Christ came to exalt the spiritual type of man above the physical, and the world is rapidly coming to see the wisdom of His teachings. It is a belated and belittled philosophy of life which undertakes to put the emphasis upon the brutal instincts of men instead of upon the humanities. The former must be overcome, the latter will become dominant."

There was a little dispute before Judge Gibson this morning between Attorneys Ach and McKee. Both lawyers wanted the case, the matter of the estate of Joseph Black, deceased, continued after a discussion of the matter of continuing the case. Mr. McKee said: "Mr. Ach raised a mean, nasty point on the will that I was absent that no respectable attorney would raise." "I don't go around volunteering cases and scratching for fees and a reputation," replied Mr. Ach. Judge Gibson cut the discussion short at this point.

WEALTHY INDIANS IN U. S.

According to figures which have been made public by the office of Indian affairs, the total value of lands belonging to the Indians is more than $575,000,000, and the amount of actual cash held is more than $22,000,000.

The figures of R. G. Valentine, commissioner of Indian affairs, who succeeded Francis E. Leupp, show that the tribal property of the Indians is valued at $251,762,218, of which amount $193,705,798 is in lands, and $57,956,420 is in timber. The individual property held by the Indians is even greater, amounting to $309,358,201, of which $280,300,151 is in land and $29,058,050 is in timber. Besides this real estate, "Poor Lo" has $58,204,658 in cash in the United States treasury, and funds in banks amounting to $6,514,371.

The popular opinion is that the Indians are a rapidly disappearing race, and that they will soon become extinct. Figures do not bear out this idea, and the Indian office statistics show that the birth rate last year was 33.4 to the thousand, while the death rate was only 31.2. The Indian population of the country is about three hundred thousand, scattered through twenty-six states, or 187 reservations, with an aggregate area twice the size of the State of New York. "Poor Lo's" per capita wealth is approximately $2,130; that for other Americans is only a little more than $1,300.

The lands owned by the Indians are rich in natural resources of all kinds. Many of the tribes own some of the best timber land there is in the United States. The value of the agricultural lands also runs far up in the millions. Much of the land in the various reservations is valuable for oil and gas and coal deposits. The ranges support about one-half million sheep and cattle owned by lessees, bringing in a revenue of more than $272,000 to the various tribes, and besides provide feed for more than one and one-half million head of horses, cattle, sheep and goats belonging to the Indians themselves. Practically the only asphalt deposits in the United States are on Indian lands. In addition to this wealth in natural resources and in funds, the Indian has appropriated for him about fifteen million dollars a year by Congress for education and improvement.—Chicago Record-Herald.

YANKEE GIRLS ABROAD

American girls traveling in Europe have Lady Cook to thank for a "character" and a warm defense against a favorite form of libel the refutation of which, if unnecessary for those who know them, is none the less gratifying.

They do not go abroad to "have a good time," which includes cigarette-smoking and drinking; and as respects the latter charge, Lady Cook instances the complaint of European hotel-keepers that American girls will not drink with "Of fifty young professional and business women on the way across only one took a cocktail, and the other girls felt sorry for her." A few actresses and society women may smoke, but not "the self-respecting woman."

According to Lady Cook, it is due to the presence of American girls that in Continental cities once unsafe after dark for women are now "as safe as our own Broadway." No tribute to their civilizing influence could be finer.

The race of Diley Millers is doubtless not yet extinct, but unquestionably the girl whose indiscretions provoke comment among foreigners is the exception among the general rule of self-reliant and self-respecting young women who make their voyage to Europe in annually increasing numbers. They change their skies but not their character, when they cross the ocean.—New York Tribune.

"Yes."
"Well, never have had any, and I've promised to take a girl out in one next Saturday. In managing a canoe what is the first rule for a novice to observe as regards safety?"

STAGE AS INTERPRETER

This function of the stage, as a reconstructing and reorganizing agent of accepted moral truths, came to me with overwhelming force as I listened to the Passion Play at Oberammergau one beautiful summer's day in 1900, the peasants portrayed exactly the successive scenes of the wonderful life, using only the very words found in the accepted version of the Gospels, yet modernizing and interpreting the message. They made clear that the opposition to the Young Teacher sprang from the merchants whose traffic in the temple he had disturbed and from the Pharisees who were dependent upon the merchants for support. The query of the latter was curiously familiar, as they demanded the antecedents of the Radical who dared to touch vested interests, who presumed to dictate the morality of trade and who insulted the morals of honest merchants by calling them "a crew of thieves." As the play developed, it became clear that this powerful opposition had friends in church and state; that they controlled influences which ramified in all directions; their very position in the community gave their statement weight, and the young agitator must be done away with in order that the highest interests of society might be conserved. These simple peasants made it clear that it was the "money power" which induced one of the agitator's closest friends to betray him, and that

20 YEARS AGO IN OAKLAND

A very pleasant entertainment was given last night in the rooms of the Deutscher Club on Twelfth street.

The annual meeting for the election of a board of directors of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held in the rooms of the organization this evening.

Ex-Principal Henry Wright of Berkeley High school proposes to contest the authority of the Berkeley board of education in dismissing him from his position without cause, and has filed a complaint in the superior court, asking that a writ of mandamus issue compelling the board of education to allow him to resume his duties as principal of the school.

There was a little dispute before Judge Gibson this morning between Attorneys Ach and McKee. Both lawyers wanted the case, the matter of the estate of Joseph Black, deceased, continued after a discussion of the matter of continuing the case. Mr. McKee said: "Mr. Ach raised a mean, nasty point on the will that I was absent that no respectable attorney would raise." The Knights Templar had a crowd of the funeral of the late W. H. Adams yesterday, and the remains were interred with all the solemn rites of the Masonic order. The services were held at the family residence, 675 Hobart street, the officiating clergymen being the Rev. Robt. Ritchie and Rev. Alfred T. Perkins. The procession to the grave was a very long one, for, in addition to the brethren of the order, a large number of friends were present to accompany the remains to their last home. The pallbearers were: Captain W. F. Fletcher, E. A. Nordhausen, Louis Schuster, M. J. O'Gara, J. Coveney, J. O'Kane, and the Bar Association was represented by Fred R. Whitney and Mr. Hawes. The funeral services were many and magnificent, among them being a beautiful Maltese cross on an easel, sent by the Athenian Club.

Owing to the popular demand, County Clerk Boardman and the members of the board of supervisors have changed their plans in regard to the manner of compiling the record in the new precinct headquarters. They had decided not to incorporate in the registers the street and number of the residence of an elector, and at first intended to designate the residence by the ward and precinct only, as this designation is all the law requires. The public seem to desire that the street and number shall be given, and so in the precinct registers for Oakland and Alameda such a course will be pursued.

Seeks Convention for San Francisco

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 31.—The Sacramento Valley Development Association is taking an active part in the campaign which is now being made to secure the 1911 convention of the National Irrigation Congress for San Francisco. At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the association resolutions were adopted endorsing San Francisco and calling upon all commercial and industrial organizations of the state to assist in the effort to secure this convention.

Will Complete Dredging Point Richmond Canal

POINT RICHMOND, Aug. 31.—President H. C. Cutting of the Canal Subdivision Company of this place announced today that a second large dredger had been secured for work on the project and that the canal would be open within a few months. The company has experienced some delay because of the inability of the Santa Fe Railway to complete the fill on Ashland avenue, but assurances have been given that this work will be vigorously prosecuted in the future.

JAIL TWO WOMEN AS HORSE THIEVES

SAN JOSE, Aug. 31.—Miss Eva Bennett, aged 20, and Miss Anita Croce, aged 19, both residents of San Francisco, are held at the county jail in this city under $1000 bail on charges of felony embezzlement. Miss Bennett said that she was a stenographer at the Fairmont hotel, and Miss Croce that she was a landlady at the same place.

The girls rented a rig from the stable of John Stabler in this city Sunday morning. They drove 30 miles to a mountain ranch owned by Miss Croce's aunt near Gilroy, and are said not to have returned that night as they intended.

Stabler secured a warrant for their arrest, and the sheriff's office commenced a search for the girls, who remained in the mountains.

They started for San Jose to return the rig Monday, and were surprised when they were arrested at Morgan Hill by Deputy Sheriff Rudolfer. They were rather indignant also, and took precautions to keep the story of their predicament from their friends and families in the metropolis.

The girls were kept several hours in a 10x12 prison in Morgan Hill, and were brought back to San Jose late Monday night. Yesterday morning they were arraigned before Justice Wallace.

BALDWIN'S ESTATE IS SPLIT UP FOR HEIRS

Clara Stocker Gets $3,936.304; Mrs. McLaughrey, Same; Widow, $14,366.

Net Wealth, After Deduction of Mortgages, $7,351,038; Contests Still Delay.

Lucky Baldwin's Bequests How Estate Is Split Up

Here are the apportionments of "Lucky" Baldwin's estate, as estimated by the executor:

Heir	Bequest	Inheritance Tax
Clara Baldwin Stocker (daughter)	$3,936.304	$113.524
Anita Baldwin McLaughrey (daughter)	$3,936.304	$113.524
Dorothy McLaughrey (granddaughter)	191.584	5.873
Baldwin McLaughrey (grandchild)	191.584	5.873
Albert Snyder (grandchild)	191.584	5.873
Rosebud Doble Malander (grandchild)	191.584	5.873
Lillie Bennett Baldwin (widow)	140,000	2,941
Zella Robinson Selby (daughter)	45,000	Not given
H. S. Urush (executor)	$2.50	Not given

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 31.—The report of James H. Faulkner (special appraiser of the estate of the late E. J. Baldwin, was filed in the Probate Court today and Judge Rives ordered the executor of the estate, H. A. Urush, to pay to the State through the county treasurer $247,000 inheritance tax. This is the largest amount that any estate in California has been taxed by at least $100,000.

Appraiser Faulkner's report brought out many interesting details in regard to the Baldwin estate, but the particulars will not be approved until the final distribution of the property among the heirs.

NET ESTATE IS $7,351,038.

The report shows that Baldwin at the time of his death had $11,385,967.75 in real estate and $349,342.71 in personal property. From this the appraiser deducted $4,138,272.01 the property being mortgaged for that amount, leaving a net amount of $7,597,038.45. It was this amount that was divided upon. The exact amount of the tax cannot be determined by the court until the final distribution and all litigation like the contest of Beatrice Turnbull and the claims of other heirs settled. Should the claims make the amount less than the seven million taxed, then the State will have to give a rebate. Should it be more, the heirs will have to pay a large amount.

DAUGHTER DELAYS HER CLAIM.
Beatrice Anita Baldwin, also known as Beatrice Turnbull, does not intend to put in her claim as heir as alleged daughter of "Lucky" Baldwin until the estate is ready for final distribution. This will delay the settlement many months. Should Miss Baldwin-Turnbull's claim be recognized by the court, the amounts to be paid by the heirs will be greatly changed and the 17-year-old girl will have to pay a sum equal to Mrs. Stocker and Mrs. McLaughrey.

Faulkner fixes the possible fees of Bradner Lee, as attorney, and H. A. Urush, as executor, at $250,000 each.

WIDOW'S BEQUEST $46,666.

Though it was known when Baldwin's will was read that he had left his wife a very small sum comparatively, it was not known until the report was filed that the exact amount was $146,666.00, while the two daughters, Clara Baldwin Stocker and Mrs. Anita McLaughrey, received more than $3,900,000 each.

Zella Robinson Selby, a daughter, who did not receive public recognition until after his death, received under the will but $45,000. She threatened to bring suit, as did Mrs. Baldwin, with resulting compromises from the heirs in the form of much larger settlements.

PRECINCT CAPTAIN GETS DEATH BLOW

Chicago Republican County Executive Committee Abolishes Office.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—The Republican "precinct captain" received his death blow yesterday when the Republican county committee voted to abolish the office once and for all time in compliance with the provisions of the new primary law. Since the primary law went into effect this is the most revolutionary step that has yet been taken in carrying out its provisions. Up to the present time the precinct captain has been "a power" in ward politics, but, as far as the Cook County Republican organization is concerned, he ceases to exist henceforth.

In future, by the amendment to its constitution adopted by the Republican executive committee yesterday, the precinct committees, to be elected at the primaries, will do the work of the precinct captain.

DECLARES ISLAND JAPANESE QUIET

Chief Justice Hartwell Brands Rumors to Contrary False.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—General A. S. Hartwell, chief justice of the Supreme Court of Hawaii, is in New York en route from Europe to San Francisco, from whence he sails for Honolulu September 13.

Commenting on alarming rumors of unrest among the Japanese in Hawaii, General Hartwell said:

"There is no unrest among the Japanese in Hawaii, although it is true many of them are ex-soldiers. Not a sign of trouble from this source is to be found by the Americans, who are closely observant."

"It is my understanding that the four Japanese convicted for conspiring to stir up labor troubles were afterwards pardoned by the governor, which I believe was a wise and just act."

ONE MILLION DOLLARS FOR A GOOD STOMACH

This Offer Should Be a Warning to Every Man and Woman.

The newspapers and medical journals have had much to say relative to a famous millionaire's offer of a million dollars for a new stomach.

This great multi-millionaire was too busy to worry about the condition of his stomach. He allowed his dyspepsia to run from bad to worse until in the end it became incurable. His misfortune should serve as a warning to others. Everyone who suffers with dyspepsia for a few years will give everything he owns for a new stomach.

Dyspepsia is caused by an abnormal state of the gastric juices. There is one element missing—Pepsin. The absence of this destroys the function of the gastric juices. They lose their power to digest food.

We are now able to supply the pepsin in a form almost identical to that naturally created by the system when in normal health, so that it restores to the gastric juices their digestive power, and thus makes the stomach strong and well.

We want every one troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia to come to our store and obtain a box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. They contain Bismuth-Subnitrate and Pepsin prepared by a process which develops their greatest power to overcome digestive disturbance.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are very pleasant to take. They soothe the irritable, weak stomach, strengthen and invigorate the digestive organs, relieve nausea and indigestion, promote nutrition and bring about a feeling of comfort.

If you give Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets a reasonable trial we will return your money if you are not satisfied with the result. Three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies only at The Owl Drug Co., Inc., 10th and Washington, 13th and Broadway, 15th and San Pablo.

SPEAKS ON PARK SYSTEM IN CITY

Commissioner Wilson S. Gould Lectures Before Large Audience.

Before an audience that filled the large auditorium of Wendell hall, Thirteenth and Market streets, San Mateo, California, Commissioner Wilson S. Gould delivered a lecture on "Municipal Parks" Monday night with especial reference to the system of parks and boulevards that this city is working on at the present time.

The lecture was given under the auspices of the members of the First Unitarian church and was largely attended.

Wilson spoke of the impetus given the movement in late years by the consideration given it by various municipalities. It was the tendency, he said, to make the modern city attractive by means of wide boulevards and well-laid out parks.

"The horse and the phaeton are passing," he said, "before the automobile and the motorcycle and in consequence the inhabitants of the city seeking recreation in a larger way than before. They are able to go farther and farther in their search for recreation and the city that does not have open spaces and boulevards is falling behind the times."

"In answer to this demand, the city of Oakland has gradually enlarged its park system. Owing to lack of foresight in the earlier days when land was cheap, the city is now forced to acquire isolated tracts instead of having large central districts for parks. The acreage of the park system is so situated that every section of the city is represented and by a series of boulevards we are planning to connect the various sections and to make a uniform system of the whole."

Accuses Man of Stealing Diamonds

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—A warrant was issued in the police court yesterday morning for the arrest of Richard J. Nolan on a charge of grand larceny. The complainant, Emily Hewitt, of 1452 Divisadero street, accuses him of stealing a pair of diamond ear-rings, valued at $750.

Edwin V. Wilson is charged with the embezzlement of $275 in a warrant sworn to by Tim Sheehan of 116 Hyde Street, San Mateo. Wilson, it is understood, was treasurer for the San Francisco Lumber Clerks' Association.

Fugitives Are Absent When Cases Come Up

Neither Ingram Chapman, who jumped his bond of $1500 and disappeared during his trial for the embezzlement of corporation stock, nor George E. Esplin, who disappeared on the eve of his trial for criminally assaulting a 15-year-old girl, forfeiting a cash bond of $500, had been apprehended when Superior Judge Brown called their cases yesterday. He therefore continued the cases until September 6, with instructions to the Sheriff's office to continue its search for the two fugitives.

Child-birth calls upon your greatest vitality

At no other time in your life is it so essential that your nerves and general health be so perfect. Nourishing and strengthening food must be provided in plenty. A malt tonic of recognized value such as greatly aids in preparing the system for the ordeal. It contains all the nutritive and strengthening properties of select barley malt and choice hops, and being in predigested liquid form, is easily and quickly assimilated, giving the strength required to carry the double burden, both before and after childbirth.

Its use by mothers makes strong, healthy children.

The United States Government specifically identifies Pabst Extract as an article of food.

VERA FITCH DYING FROM SUICIDE'S BULLET

Former Oakland Girl Is Not Expected to Recover From Self-Inflicted Wound.

FAILURE TO WIN FAME CAUSE OF RASH ACT

Makes Vain Effort to Conceal Identity; Sisters Are Well Known in West.

The Fitch's came from Atlantic City a few days ago.

VERA FITCH KNOWN AS STUDIOUS GIRL WHILE IN OAKLAND

According to friends of the Fitch family in this city, the girl who attempted suicide even while at school had literary inclinations and it is believed by them that the successive disappointments she met with in New York had a disastrous effect on her mind.

The family, during their residence in Oakland, lived in a pretty bungalow on East Eleventh street. The father, Henry S. Fitch, was a former army officer and a veteran of the Mexican war. He was for a time in the real estate business in San Francisco and during the Comstock scandal, engaged largely in mining deals.

Mrs. Fitch, the mother of the girl, is a beautiful woman. She was much younger than her husband and appeared to be devoted to him. He died in Oakland in the latter part of 1907.

MARRIED CONGRER'S NEPHEW.

The two sisters of the girl who attempted suicide in New York were better known than Vera in this city. They were very pretty girls. Grace, the eldest daughter of the family, was married in 1901 to Roy W. Conger, a nephew of Edwin H. Conger, former minister to China.

The Congers went to New York to live and the recent news of Mrs. Conger's suit for divorce created quite a little talk in local and San Francisco society.

At the time of her sister's attempt on her life Mrs. Conger was planning to go on the stage. The youngest daughter, Mrs. George G. Cooper, also left this city shortly after her marriage, which preceded her father's death.

The girl, Vera, is only slightly recalled by people in this city. She is a very pretty girl, but took little part in local activities. Her studious nature and avoidance of making new acquaintances led her to be viewed as a somewhat eccentric.

GIRL WAS STUDIOUS.

One of the friends of the family, in speaking of the girl, told the Tribune that she was a very quiet and studious girl. She was always something of a mystery to me. She made no new friends and was very much engrossed in her studies. For a short time, she attended the high school, but she never took part in the life of the school.

I always understood that she was ambitious to become a writer and was always studying with that end in view. One day she told me that she had also had stage leanings, but she was too quiet and reserved to stand the preliminary work of the theater.

Grace was also inclined to a theatrical career and from what I have understood, that is what led to the break with her husband. I know that Vera made no friends and was very much engrossed in her work. The continued failure in her work led to the high school, but she seemed to be centered in herself and her work.

I seem unnatural that the studious girl that I recollect should make an attempt on her life and it is hard to think that she had ever heard of her whole nature seemed to be centered in herself and her work.

Third of Faster Sect Dies; Fourth in Danger

Mrs. Boyle, Holy Roller, Passes Away in City of Los.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 31.—Mrs. Nellie Boyle, one of a quartet which fasted forty days in a frenzy of religious fanaticism, died today at the City Hospital.

She had done without food so long that when the fast was broken, about ten days ago, her stomach was too weak to assimilate it.

Mrs. Boyle is the third of the four fasters to die.

Rev. John Irving O'Neill, who claimed to have been pastor in Dallas, Tex., was the first to die. He died at the City Hospital, followed last week by the survivor James Butler, but his condition is so bad today that he will probably die.

The fasters were members of the Holy Roller sect. They were found in a cottage on the outskirts of the city by neighbors, after they had been so reduced by their abstinence that they could not walk.

They claimed they were fasting to purify their bodies for entrance into heaven.

Kaiser's Trophy Received For the Great Saengerfest

Thousands Arrive for Festival in Which Twenty Singing Societies Will Take Part

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—With thousands of persons arriving daily for the saengerfest which will be held in this city the last three days of the week, festivities commenced last night at 32 Turk street, when several singing societies gathered.

The $10,000 trophy which was presented by Emperor William of Germany was received by Consul-General Franz Bopp yesterday and will be awarded Saturday afternoon, as first prize in the singing contest in which twenty societies will take part.

A trophy valued at $2000 has also been received from Washington, where it was forwarded by Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria. It will be awarded as first prize to the society ranking best in the Tyrolean singing. Both cups are known as "Wanderer" prizes owing to their not being permanently awarded until society has won them for three consecutive times.

MEDALS AWARDED.

As an award for the best poem written for the occasion of the saengerfest, a medal has been given Konrad Niles of San Francisco and for the best musical composition to A. Buckee of Philadelphia.

A great deal of interest has been manifested in the great cup presented by the German Emperor, which outside of its cost is looked up as a magnificent work of art. It stands 24 inches high and is mounted upon a pedestal standing eight inches. On one side is a portrait of the Emperor, carved in gold, while below is the inscription:

Wanderer's

in San Francisco.

On the other side of the date of the gift. The cup is being closely guarded, its custodians not forgetting the theft of a similar trophy from the Ferry building several months ago.

WELL-KNOWN SOLOISTS.

Many well-known soloists are already in the city in anticipation of the festival. Allan Hincley and Marie Marie Rappold, basso and prima donna soprano of the Metropolitan Opera company, and Daniel Beddo and Miss Margaret Keyes are among those well known. Tomorrow there will be a more cutting program commencing in the morning with the entertainment of the visiting directors by Arthur Claassen at the St. Francis with a great reception known as the "concert" at the Auditorium in the evening. Addresses of welcome will be delivered by Mayor McCarthy and several others.

SOUTH ENDORSES ISSUE OF EXPOSITION BONDS

Delegates From San Francisco Meet With Promise of Hearty Co-Operation From the Legislative Members

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 31.—James McNab, president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, and City and County Attorney Percy B. Long of the same city, who arrived here yesterday to enlist the interest of Southern California members of the State Legislature and the various commercial organizations in favor of the proposed State bond issue of $5,000,000 for the benefit of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition and San Francisco's claims, but now that all differences between the two cities regarding exposition matters are satisfactorily settled, he loyally urged, on behalf of his home city, hearty co-operation with the plans of San Francisco, declaring that the State must stand together as a whole to make the San Francisco claim not only a certainty but an unquestioned success.

MANY REPRESENTED.

At the meeting called by the Chamber of Commerce to greet the San Francisco delegates, there were also representatives of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association, the Clearing House Association and the Realty Board. The members of the Legislature present at the meeting were Charles M. Bell, H. H. F. Cogswell, Percy Hammond, W. J. Hanlon, E. C. Hincley, Richard Melrose, F. A. Stanton and J. P. Franque.

McNab and Long declared that they wanted the southern part of the State to understand that the exposition would be for the benefit of the entire State and not merely of San Francisco. As a matter of State pride, they said, all sections should get behind the exposition movement. It was pointed out that money raised by the State would be administered by a committee appointed by the Governor and that San Francisco would not have charge of the fund. This was stated to show that money received by the State will be expended for the State and for the benefit of all sections.

McNab declared that San Francisco wanted the south to feel that the exposition was a project for the whole State to handle.

Speaker Stanton of the State Assembly, Senator Thompson and J. A. Graves, vice-president of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank, said that was Low Los Angeles felt.

The consensus of opinion was that $5,000,000 should be raised either by direct taxation or by bond issue.

While the State has recently voted money for exhibits of California products, it has not appropriated a sum for a great home fair that will attract thousands. It was declared at the meeting and the belief was unanimous that at least $5,000,000 should be voted for the exposition.

Before the meeting adjourned Long and McNab thanked the representatives of the local bodies and assured them that San Francisco stood ready to reciprocate at any time.

PAYS STATE TRIBUTE.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 31.—Before leaving for New York last night C. W. McKerran, the man who made Ashbury Park, N. J., famous, paid a glowing tribute to California.

'FRAUDS UPON THE PUBLIC'

Is what some physicians have called patent medicines, and it is undeniably true that some are frauds and some are even worse, because they are injurious. On the other hand, there are many patent medicines such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and others, which are of real worth, and are recommended by physicians of recognized standing.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 31.—The East-Midway district is showing much activity, with the Pyramid oil company and the Honolulu Consolidated as the largest operators.

On sections 18, 29 and 33-32-25 the Pyramid oil company has erected in a ten derricks. Well No. 1 has been started on section 18 and has now reached a depth of 6,000 feet. A sandstone formation has been installed in order to comply with the water sand. On section 20 a complete rotary drilling outfit is being installed. A complete rotary rig has been installed on section 33 and is now under way. A few days later.

On section 24-32-24, the Honolulu Consolidated has reached a depth of approximately 3,000 feet. On section 4 of Honolulu Consolidated has just brought in a well under way. A few days later, it is expected to produce from 400 to 500 barrels a day. The gas pressure is sufficient to cause the gas to flow by heads.

Both these companies are also operating in the gusher belt of North Mississippi. The latter is now drilling a perforating well No. 1 on the Hawhill property, which was drilled into the sand with a rotary and Superintendant Pollard expects it to come in as a splendid producer. It is expected to bring in the gas as a gusher some time ago is pumping and flowing at the usual rate. Other wells are drilling on the property.

On section 28-31-22, farther to the northwest, the Pyramid has reached a depth of about 1200 feet. The first oil sand was encountered at 1055 feet but this was drilled through and was not a commercial success. The latter is generally spoken of as the gusher sand in this part of the Midway field at depth on this section of from 1700 to 1800 feet. In this well the water was cut off with 124-in. casing at 1035 feet.

KERN RIVER FIELD.

28. Well No. 1 has been completed and the cement is now being allowed to set. The plug will be drilled through next week and the well will be completed at a depth of from 800 to 925 feet. The derrick and rig for well No. 2 on the property has been completed and the well will be spudded in during the next two or three days.

Santa Paula canyon. Oil has been found here, running between the eight and ten inch casing at frequent intervals, and the water level that comes out in this way is of a higher grade. A third sand, which is known to exist underneath the Pyramid's Santa Paula property, but which never before had been developed, is to be penetrated by well No. 2 and when this is accomplished it will be a better well than any yet encountered on the Pyramid property will be opened up.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—At a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. State committee here, yesterday, it was decided to hold the 1911 convention in San Francisco. The exact date is still to be set, for it will be the thirtieth annual meeting of the association in California.

MERCHANTS TO IMPROVE ALL SAN PABLO AVENUE

Paint and Lights to Make New Business
Street Out of Oakland Thoroughfare;
Business to Be Bettered

They are going to paint up San Pablo avenue, and when in its cleanliness and brilliance it shines, the merchants along the avenue are going to put up a series of lights and then they are going out to tell everybody about it.

That is the decision reached at a live meeting of the Business Men's Club of San Pablo avenue last night at the Rice Institute. In addition to ratifying the newly-drawn constitution and by-laws of the organization an interesting discussion of a uniform system of lighting the street was held.

It was practically decided that the first step of the club will be to establish a series of lights along the avenue. The fronts will be repainted and new window panes will be put in and made bright and shiny. Then, if the desires of some of the members at last night's meeting are adhered to, a band will be engaged to furnish music for the avenue Saturday evenings.

SEEK THE LIGHT.

"We will make the avenue as light as light can make it," said one member last night.

The manager of the Central Electric Company, who was present was asked to prepare estimates and plans for a system of lighting the avenue. When the plans are complete lights will be strung or posts erected, from Fourteenth street to Twentieth.

At the meeting last night two new officers were elected. H. D. Elanecy was elected financial secretary and M. J. Schoenfeldt made vice president.

The preamble of the constitution adopted last night shows the purposes for which the club was organized. It follows:

TO INCREASE TRADE

"In order to increase trade and traffic and better protect their mutual interests, the business men of San Pablo avenue have resolved to and do hereby organize the Business Men's Club of San Pablo avenue and do hereby agree to be bound by and fulfill the obligations of the constitution."

The objects of the club are to discuss ways and means of bettering business and improving the thoroughfare for publicity to further wider and more progressive business to promote a pull-together spirit among the members of the club.

It was decided after some discussion that more property owners would not be made eligible to membership. The next meeting will be held at the Rice Institute Tuesday night.

DENIES EMPLOYING RED-HAIRED SIREN

Standard Oil Denounces Mrs.
French's Story as Tissue of Falsehoods.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31—Intense indignation reigned yesterday at the office of the Standard oil company as the result of the publicity given the French and her statements concerning a red-haired siren employed by the company.

John D. Archbold vice president and director of the Standard oil company, through his secretary made this statement:

"Standard oil does not employ red-haired sirens in its business. These statements are a tissue of falsehoods. Ridiculous, upon their face. I can not make any denial of these reports too emphatic. There has never been any such absurdities regarding a woman such as you describe acting as an agent for the Standard oil company."

MRS. FRENCH INSISTS.

"My lawyer's have told me not to talk with reporters," said Mrs. Lillian Hobart French. Just the same the Standard oil company did employ and may yet, for all I know, a red-haired siren to gain secrets from enemies like Mrs. Heineke and others worth while. Now I don't say another word about it—at least not at present."

Developments yesterday make it extremely probable that the red-haired siren was at one time a Broadway show girl and that she appeared in the "Florodora" sextet after having been one of the most trusted members of the cast of the "Man in the Moon" company, in which Edna May starred several years ago. Her first name is still said to be Marie.

With a number of other stage beauties she is said to have attended the midnight supper at Hector's given by Fritz August Heineke, at which the fair guests opened walnut shells and found a $100 bill folded within each.

British to Build Chilean Warships

LONDON, Aug. 31—American and continental ship-builders who expected to compete for the construction of the new Chilean warships probably have been frozen out. Chile has invited tenders to be submitted by September 15 for two warships of 2400 tons, each capable of a speed of 33 knots. The plans have been drawn up by Sir Philip Watts, chief naval constructor of the British Navy, and specify that the guns and certain machinery must be of English design and manufacture.

Surveyor of Port In Critical Condition

SANTA ROSA, Aug. 31—The condition of Edward F. Woodward, surveyor of the port of San Francisco, who has been seriously ill at his ranch at Woolsey near here, is believed to be critical. Woodward's physicians now remain at the house all night, while a force of trained nurses is in constant attendance.

S.S.S. CURES RHEUMATISM

No case of Rheumatism was ever cured except by a thorough purification of the blood, just as long as the blood remains charged with fermenting uric acid poison the painful disease will continue. The pains and aches of Rheumatism are only symptoms, and it is true these may be scattered and temporarily relieved by the application of plasters, liniments and home remedies of various kinds, but the person who trifles with this dangerous disease by depending on local treatment alone is bound to pay for the mistake with constant suffering, later on. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism in the only way it is possible to cure the disease. It goes down into the blood, and removes the uric acid from the circulation, so that the nerves, bones, muscles and joints are all lubricated and with nourishing matter, instead of being continually irritated and inflamed with the sharp, uric acid impurity. When S. S. S. has cleansed and purified the blood the pains and aches cease, all inflammation disappears, stiffened muscles are made supple, and every miserable symptom of Rheumatism is corrected. CUDAHY RESCUES TWO FROM WATER

With Fiance He Saves Yachtsmen From Death Near Belvedere.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31—Miss Nora Brewer and her fiance Edward Cudahy, and Miss Sydney Davis formed a life saving party Monday evening near Belvedere. The trio took a row boat to the rescue of Pierre Moore and Will Bohrmann just as they were sinking, and carried them to Belvedere.

Moore and Bohrmann went to sea in a sail boat and were gliding along in an uneventful way until they collided with a gasoline launch. The smaller boat capsized and Moore and Bohrmann were struggling in the water when their cries for help attracted the attention of Miss Brewer and her party. They rowed to the scene of the accident and dragged the two drowning men into the boat.

Miss Brewer modestly disclaimed any credit for the life saving feat, saying that the honors were due to Edward Cudahy, who was first aid to the drowning ones. Pierre Moore is an expert sailor and has entertained his friends from town at various pleasure parties on the way during the summer. The gasoline launch party stopped to offer assistance but Miss Brewer and her volunteer rescue crew had already saved their friends from a watery grave.

ANNOUNCEMENT AN EASY AND HARMLESS WAY TO DARKEN THE HAIR.

Who does not know of the value of sage and sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft, glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably there is no better remedy for hair and scalp troubles, especially premature grayness, than sage and sulphur, if properly prepared. The Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, put up an ideal preparation of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. It is sold by all leading druggists for 50c. and $1.00 a bottle, or is sent direct by the manufacturers upon receipt of price.

WOMEN'S SOCIETY

THE WEDDING of Miss Mary Frances Williamson and George Frank was celebrated last evening at the Willard F. Williamson residence, in Hillside avenue. Baskets of pink and lavender asters, Shasta daisies and pink roses were used in beautifying the room.

The bride wore a long wedding veil and an elaborate gown of white chiffon, made over white satin, with the court train, the latter being elaborated with small applique roses. A latten work cap entwined with roses and leaves took the place of the conventional wreath of orange blossoms. A shower bouquet of white gardenias and stephanotis gave the finishing touch to an exquisite toilet. The trio of bridesmaids, Miss Clara Frank, Miss Anna Frank and Miss Mary Englehardt, wore lavender lace gowns and each had a wreath of French roses in her hair. Cosage bouquets of the same roses fringed with wide French lace added a charming effect to the unusual beauty of the gown.

Mrs. Joseph Cowing, as matron of honor, wore her own wedding dress, which was an elaborate embroidered white satin, trimmed in pearls. Sixty-five guests witnessed the service, performed by the Rev. Frederick Clumpe of San Francisco.

The Williamsons have been known for many years about the bay. After the honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Frank will take possession of their new home, which has been made ready for them at Adams Point.

KILLS HIMSELF So Wife Can Wed 'Better Man'

NEW YORK.—Because he wished to leave his wife free to marry a better man, Bruno J. Feder, thirty-five, of Nos. 215 and 318 East Fourteenth street, manager of the Lenox Labor Agency, No. 106 East Fourth street, killed himself in the Grand Union Hotel by shooting himself through the head. On the mantelpiece of the room was a photograph of his wife—a pretty girl of nineteen—so placed that he could see it with his last glance. Feder was a native of Roumania, college bred, and conversant with nine languages. He registered at the hotel as "L. Brown, Kingston, N. Y." His identity and the reason for his deed were made clear by the contents of a letter found in his room, addressed to a newspaper.

Feder was removed to Bellevue, still breathing. He died in the prison ward there forty minutes after his arrival. One minute later his wife reached the hospital.

After registering on Monday Feder held for one day and was assigned to room No. 420, on the top floor of the hotel. At 6:30 o'clock that night Daniel Carahan, a hallboy, making his rounds, got no response to knocks on the room door and broke it open. He found the occupant stretched across the bed, partly clothed, a bullet wound in his right temple, and a big revolver beside him.

Surgeon Russell arrived in an ambulance from Bellevue. He found a spark of life, and hurried Feder to the hospital, but he was beyond help.

The latter, and several others left by evening at the Stowe home near San Lorenzo.

Tonight Miss Madeline Clay will be hostess at a large dinner party in honor of Miss McMullin, and will entertain at the Fruitvale residence of her parents, after which an informal dance will round out the evening's pleasure.

WOMEN ENGAGE IN WASHTUB CONTEST. WOODBURY, N. J.—A unique competition at Cross Keys, a few miles from here, took place when two young women engaged in a washtub contest. Miss Stella Hurff won. She washed and hung up 135 pieces in an hour and a quarter, while Miss Nellie Harper was second with 115 pieces to her credit.

ROMANCE STALKS IN LIVES OF TWO GOTHAM COUPLES. NEW YORK.—Among the engagements announced recently were two that were of more than ordinary interest. One is tinged with unusual romance and the other involves a young woman who won fame by her work for poor children while yet a child.

The first is that of Miss Marguerite Fish, daughter of Captain and Mrs. George F. Fish, of Cincinnati, who will become the bride of Arthur D. Baker, son and business associate of Joseph M. Baker, a prominent Philadelphia real estate operator.

Last spring, while Baker was running his automobile in Fernwood, just outside of this city, the car skidded struck a telegraph pole with force and Baker was thrown out. He sustained a fracture of the skull. He was found lying on the road unconscious by Miss Fish. She summoned help and had the injured man removed to his home.

INTEREST AROUSED. Her interest aroused, she assisted materially in nursing the young man back to health, and in the interim the romance was begun and the courtship carried on. Mr. Fish is a prominent theatrical man in Cincinnati, and has a summer home at Ocean City, where the engagement was announced.

Miss Emma C. E. Rogan, of 704 North Twentieth street, is to be the bride of Dr. Joseph V. F. Clay, of the staff of the Hahnemann Hospital. Announcement was made by her aunt, Mrs. Emma Rogan. The young woman is a daughter of George H. and Hannah I. Specht.

Several years ago Miss Rogan was very ill and not expected to live. Her physician was Dr. Edward Martin, director of public health and charity, and he brought her back to health. He became very fond of the child and she in turn was grateful to him. In 1904, when she was but 14 years old, Doctor Martin bought the Valley farm, near Media, and dedicated it to the poor children of the city, sending them there in large numbers during the summer months.

The project interested Emma Rogan immensely and she wanted to be the matron. Doctor Martin agreed, and during the summer she cared for the little ones with the skill of a trained nurse and the devotion of an enthusiast. Dr. Martin wanted to pay her, but she refused to accept money for the work. The philanthropic physician declared that much of the success of the enterprise was due to the splendid work of the little matron.

Several years ago Miss Rogan was very ill and not expected to live. Her physician was Dr. Edward Martin, director of public health and charity, and he brought her back to health. He became very fond of the child and she in turn was grateful to him. In 1904, when she was but 14 years old, Doctor Martin bought the Valley farm, near Media, and dedicated it to the poor children of the city, sending them there in large numbers during the summer months.

The project interested Emma Rogan immensely and she wanted to be the matron. Doctor Martin agreed, and during the summer she cared for the little ones with the skill of a trained nurse and the devotion of an enthusiast. Dr. Martin wanted to pay her, but she refused to accept money for the work. The philanthropic physician declared that much of the success of the enterprise was due to the splendid work of the little matron.

WOMEN ENGAGE IN WASHTUB CONTEST. WOODBURY, N. J.—A unique competition at Cross Keys, a few miles from here, took place when two young women engaged in a washtub contest. Miss Stella Hurff won. She washed and hung up 135 pieces in an hour and a quarter, while Miss Nellie Harper was second with 115 pieces to her credit.

ROMANCE STALKS IN LIVES OF TWO GOTHAM COUPLES. NEW YORK.—Among the engagements announced recently were two that were of more than ordinary interest. One is tinged with unusual romance and the other involves a young woman who won fame by her work for poor children while yet a child.

The first is that of Miss Marguerite Fish, daughter of Captain and Mrs. George F. Fish, of Cincinnati, who will become the bride of Arthur D. Baker, son and business associate of Joseph M. Baker, a prominent Philadelphia real estate operator.

Last spring, while Baker was running his automobile in Fernwood, just outside of this city, the car skidded struck a telegraph pole with force and Baker was thrown out. He sustained a fracture of the skull. He was found lying on the road unconscious by Miss Fish. She summoned help and had the injured man removed to his home.

INTEREST AROUSED. Her interest aroused, she assisted materially in nursing the young man back to health, and in the interim the romance was begun and the courtship carried on. Mr. Fish is a prominent theatrical man in Cincinnati, and has a summer home at Ocean City, where the engagement was announced.

Miss Emma C. E. Rogan, of 704 North Twentieth street, is to be the bride of Dr. Joseph V. F. Clay, of the staff of the Hahnemann Hospital. Announcement was made by her aunt, Mrs. Emma Rogan. The young woman is a daughter of George H. and Hannah I. Specht.
